SECRETS OF THE SECRET SOCIETIES

BLOOD RITUAL OF THE DREADED CAMORRA

IDEALS THAT GO BACK TO PRIMITIVE MAN

Are you straight?—I am

How straight?—As straight as a rush.

Go on then?—In truth, in trust, in unity and liberty.

What have you got in your hand?—A green bough.

Where did it first grow?—In America.

Where did it first bud?—In France.

Where are you going to plant it?—In the Crown of Great Britain.

Such was the oath of initiation into one of the most famous secret societies of the last two hundred years—the United Irishmen, whose order has since given place to many other organisations that exist in Ireland down to the present day.

In his new book, "Famous Secret Societies" (Sampson Low, 12s. 6d.), Mr. Heron J. Lepper tells some remarkable stories of secret societies of yesterday and to-day.

Even the savages of old had their secret orders, and primitive men used to undergo initiatory rites on reaching manhood's development in their late 'teens. These young men used to learn—

Signs by which to know at a distance whether a stranger were friend or foe.

Pledges to secure support from comrades in battle or the chase.

Tests to exclude the untrustworthy from any enterprise that required resolution and courage.

The author explains:

"Here we have the germs that have developed into thousands of secret associations of human beings all the world over.

"The object of all pagan mysteries was to explain to the initiate the meaning of this present life; to calm his fears of death; to reassure his soul about its immortality; and by cleansing him from impurity to do away with the necessity of expiating crimes in a future existence.

A French Oath.

"Whatever truths or futilities were veiled in these mysteries behind a curtain of allegory, all of them alike adopted certain symbols to remind the initiate of the lessons he had been taught, and all of them demanded an oath of secrecy from him. This vow was usually particularly well kept. . . ."

Of the old French society known as "The Seasons" Mr. Lepper tells:

"Six members commanded by a Sunday formed a Week; four weeks commanded by a July formed a Month; three months obeyed a Season—four seasons took their orders from a Revolutionary Agent."

The particular oath of this order read:

"In the name of the Republic, I swear eternal hate to all Kings, to all aristocrats, to all oppressors of humanity. I swear absolute devotion to the people, fraternity to all men, save aristocrats; I swear to punish traitors; I promise to give my life, and even to mount the scaffold, if necessary, to bring about the reign of the sovereignty of the people and of equality."

Mr. Lepper tells many stories of the dreaded Camorra of Italy.

Initiation into this society was an elaborate ritual. The members at first seated themselves round a table on which were placed a dagger, a pistol, a glass of poison and a lancet. Then the aspirant was brought into the room.

"A vein was opened in his arm with the lancet, and dipping his hand in the blood, he stretched it out towards the assembled company and swore to keep the society's secrets and to obey its commands in all things.

"Then the aspirant took up the dagger and stuck it into table, cocked the pistol, and raised the glass to his lips, typifying by these actions his readiness to kill himself at a word from the chief. The chief then took the glass from his hand and made him kneel down before the table.

"After that the pistol was fired in the air, the glass broken on the floor, the dagger drawn from the table, put in its sheath, and presented to the candidate, who then exchanged embraces with all present, beginning with the chief. He was then considered to have become a full Camorrista, entitled to all the rights, privileges and profits of the society, every section of which was informed of his promotion."

This order was originally formed at Nashville, Tennessee, by a group of Confederate Army officers in the year 1867. Their first activities were largely aimed at intimidating the negroes by fantastic costumes, night assemblies, flaming crosses and high-sounding proclamations, mixed with a little conjuring bluff to impress the superstitious blacks.

After a time the organisation lapsed, and was not revived until the year 1916. Its new purpose was stated to be—"To inculcate the sacred principles of chivalry, the development of character, the protection of the home, the chastity of womanhood, and patriotism."

DINNER DANCE AT PENINSULA HOTEL

GIVEN BY N.T. MEDICAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

BRILLIANT AND ENJOYABLE FUNCTION

The dinner dance and cabaret show organised by the New Territories Medical Benevolent Association and held on Saturday night proved a brilliant and most enjoyable function. Fully six hundred people were present, and while members of the Chinese community were, perhaps, in a majority a very large number of Europeans and quite a few members of the Indian community were also present.

Medical men and ladies were there in great force, Professor Gerard bringing a large party. A most capable committee of which Dr. Wu was the moving spirit had made all arrangements, and the affair went with an enjoyable swing from first to last.

An excellent dinner was served, upon which Mr. A. G. Privanelli and his staff deserve every congratulation. The affair was on informal lines, the guests arriving any time before 10 p.m., and there were no speeches.

Following dinner there was dancing in the Rose room and turns were given by a number of talented artistes, including the Mr. Paun Yu Jen and other members of the Joy Fun Toy Company, all of whom gave their services without charge. The company has delighted local audiences during its stay in the Colony. This was their last appearance before setting out on their travels, and, it is sufficient to say that they gave of their best.

Mrs. Mein gave a delightful toe dance, and the whisligig dancing of Josephine and Hugo, two most accomplished professionals, roused tremendous applause.

A number of songs were given by Mme. R. Ferrajolo, wife of the Italian Consul-General, whose strong and well-trained voice gave the greatest pleasure to the company.

The N.T. Medical Benevolent Society will we are sure reap a rich profit from this event. The guests were right royally entertained and the cause must have gained many new sympathisers and supporters.

SECRETS OF LIBYAN DESERT

PICTURES 9,000 YEARS OLD

Rome.—Traces of an ancient temple hewn out of solid rock were among discoveries made by Professor Frobenius, of the African Archives Museum, of Frankfurt, who has returned from his visit to Fezzan, in the Libyan colony, south of Tripoli.

Other important finds were pictorial records dating back 9,000 years, which, Professor Frobenius suggests, may be anterior to the earliest Egyptian records.

The Porfessor has been making an extensive study of the less-known districts of Tripoli since 1904, and this last is his tenth expedition.

The new discoveries consist in pictoral records at Caramanti in natural and artificial caves representing giraffes, lions, crocodiles, elephants, ostriches, buffaloes, rhinoceroses, and human figures. The designs are fairly perfect, and some of them, representing human figures, are almost life-size.

The temple, which was found on the banks of a dried-up torrent, had four orders of architecture.

The zone in which the pictorial records and other remains were found must have been at one time rich in water, and had probably been well populated. Judging from the pictorial remains, it appears that the civilisation of the inhabitants was anterior to that of the Egyptians, and they may have formed part of the race which is supposed to have entered Egypt and become its ruling peoples.

BRITISH FLEET IN BLACK SEA

SUCCESS OF BULGARIAN VISIT

Varna.—After a week's stay in Bulgarian waters crowded with social festivities, the British Third Cruiser Squadron left Varna for Constanza and Gallatz in order to pay a fortnight's visit to Roumania. The Flag-ship Curacoa fired two salutes, one of them a Royal salute, opposite the Palace of Euxinograd. This was answered by the shore batteries. Large crowds lined the shores as the ships left.

The visit was of a most cordial nature and has greatly enhanced the popularity of Great Britain in Bulgaria. The Bulgarians were delighted to see a British warship decorated with Bulgarian flags for the King's visit, and were especially pleased when British bluejackets took the Bulgarian Royal Standard from the King's pinnace and raised it at the helm of the British launch in which the King was taken to visit the submarine Rover. This incident caused a wild outburst of cheering from the onlookers.

The Admiral and a party of officers and men were taken by special train to Sofia, where football, water polo, and swimming matches took place between British and Bulgarian teams.

A HAUNTED ABBEY

LOOKING FOR A GHOST BY FLOODLIGHT

Lilleshall Abbey, Shropshire, reported to be tenanted by a ghost and to posses a secret passage, is to be flood-lighted by electricity for a period of three weeks. The Abbey is near Lilleshall Hall, the former home of the Duke of Sutherland, and it was recently announced that a search was to be made for a subterranean passage which is believed to lend to Longford Hall, two miles away.

The decision to search was made after reports from the curator of the Abbey, Mr. Dick, Bellingham, of mysterious happenings. Other persons have declared that they have heard ghostly, footsteps and the high-pitched voice of a monk intoning prayers in a foreign tongue.

A reward of £50 to a diviner or archæologist who could locate the entrance to the passage was offered, and Mr. Holden, of Bromsgrove, a well-known diviner, and Mr. Noel Boston, of Solihull, a young archæologist, were engaged by the agent of the estate, Mr. H. Ford.

By means of the special lighting it is hoped to discover the hidden passage, if one exists, and to solve the mystery of "the monk's" movements.

MOTORIST BANNED FOR LIFE

FINED £100 IN ADDITION

Two fines of £50 each were imposed at Southend on Captain Harry St. Clair Dyson, aged 37, of Shaftesburyavenue, Thorpe Bay, for being under the influence of drink while in charge of a motor-car and for driving dangerously.

His driving licence was suspended for life. He was allowed 1 month to pay the fines, the alternative being two months' imprisonment.

Deputy Chief Constable Crockford said that in September, 1929, Dyson was fined £20 for being drunk in charge and his licence was suspended. On May 9, 1930, he was fined for driving without a licence, and on May 20, 1930, he was fined for applying for a licence while disqualified.

Mr. J.B. Nolan (defending) said that in 1915 Dyson was shot in the left eye, and after recovering in England was sent to Alexandria as an officer. He sailed in the Hibernia, which was torpedoed, and he floated for a considerable time before being rescued by a mine-sweeper.

tively innocuous stuff, however, was the supplemental and innocent adjunct: "To maintain white supremacy."

"With this programme the society began to attract members, and spread rapidly into and through the Southern States. Its most phenomenal increase began after the end of the Great War, when it enlarged its programme to include aims which made a greater appeal to mens' passions and prejudices than the sacred principles of chivalry or the chastity of womanhood."

The disbandment of the Southern negro soldiers after 1918 is said to have given the first impetus to the new spirit of the Ku Klux Klan.

Racial Passions.

The coloured soldier had done his work in France well and had behaved as bravely as his white countrymen. And he had learned overseas of many other things, besides war, that had been undreamed of in Dixieland. When, accordingly, the negro soldier returned home he had acquired a new self-respect and a new self-confidence. Much of the negro's improved status—in his own eyes—was apparently due to what he had seen of French treatment of their own coloured subjects.

The negro soldiers who went back to America took with them a spirit which disturbed the whites in those communities where the negro population is most dense. It was in these districts that newly-revived Ku Klux Klan was a ready and natural means of reinforcing white supremacy; and as such it was used.

Summing up his view of the Ku Klux Klan after giving an account of many of the difficulties the organisation has faced in recent years, Mr. Lepper says this.

"It would not be unfitting to close this account of it with the fervent hope that, in the best interests of America herself, an association which attacks its fellow-citizens merely on account of their colour or religion should as speedily as possible be compelled by public opinion to live up to its title and become invisible."

FATHER DISMISSES HIS SON

THE STEPMOTHER IS BLAMED

Berlin.—Louis Adlon, owner of the world-famous hotels, appeared before Berlin Labour Court to obtain an order for his son, Karl Adlon, aged twenty-five, to vacate the hotel apartment which had been given to him as reception clerk.

"Karl Adlon," said the father, "has been dismissed from the service of the hotel because he was the youngest of the reception clerk and economy made an 'axeing' of the staff necessary. Either Karl or an old man with a wife and family had to go and I decided to dismiss Karl."

Herr Adlon complained vehemently that his son refused to leave, and also refused his offer of 250 marks to get out at once, with pocket money until he got a new job.

Not at Wedding.

Karl Adlon said that he recently married a charming American girl, Miss Eitel, daughter of a Chicago hotel owner. His father, he said, was delighted and selected the wedding ring, but when it came to the wedding he was not present and only sent a bunch of flowers.

"My step-mother," said Karl, "had incited my father against my wife and me. She did not want a second Mrs. Adlon in Berlin and so they are trying to throw us out."

After tactful negotiation by the judge, Karl Adlon decided to accept his father's offer of 250 marks and leave the Hotel Continental at once.

BRITISH STOCKS RECOVER

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Nov. 12.

THE combination of favourable factors, including a rise in commodity prices, the presentation of the British Note on war debts which was interpreted to mean that a postponement of next month's payment might be arranged and better trade returns of the past month showing that the improvement in trade balance continues, brought a sharp recovery in the stock markets on the London Stock—Exchange, yesterday, and a good tone again prevailed when the House opened this morning.

Leading Government stocks showed renewed strength at a general advance of one-eighth to five-eighths, with War Loan Assented 99½.

BATAVIA, Nov. 12.

COMPLETE agreement has been reached between the British and Dutch tea producers upon the question of which year will be the basis for determining the intensity or restriction of production, according to a local newspaper.

CHINA MERCHANT'S MORTGAGE

HELD AT NANKING TO BE ILLEGAL

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NANKING, Nov. 12.

A CONSIDERABLE stir has been created in official circles by the announcement of an agreement being signed for a loan to the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. by the China Realty Company. Officials declared the agreement was signed by Mr. Li Kuo Chieh, retiring general manager of the C.M.S.N.C. on his own responsibility, without the knowledge or approval of the Ministry of Communications.

Mr. Chu Chi Hun declared that since the loan agreement was concluded without the sanction of his Ministry, it could not be considered legally valid. The loan reportedly totals $30,000,000.

Dollar Line Involved.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 12.

The Evening Post learns the Dollar Steamship Company is also involved in the loan to the C.M.S.N.C., the purpose of which is stated to have been construction of a new thirteen storey building, development of wharves at Shanghai and other ports, the purchase of 30 steamers of a gross tonnage of 300,000 and other things.

JAPANESE WAR OFFICE ESTIMATES

GENERAL ARAKI'S DEMANDS.

Tokyo, November 3.—After his interview with Mr. Takahashi, Minister of Finance, on the War Department's estimates, General Araki, Minister of War, expressed the hope to a Press interviewer that a satisfactory settlement is possible. At the interview, the War Minister said, views were exchanged with the Finance Minister on issues relating to national policy and national defence and finance, and the Finance Minister showed himself fully appreciative of the military point of view. No divergence of view manifested itself. In so far as the War Office's estimates are concerned, therefore, he is confident that they are amenable to amicable solution.

There are many things which the military authorities would like to embark upon, but out of deference to the present financial difficulty, they have forgone matters of lesser importance. But on such undertakings as are imperative, in view of the situation, the military authorities cannot afford to yield

The Bill for Manchuria!

The Asahi says that the War Office's estimates total Y550,000,000. Of this sum, Y200,000,000 represents the ordinary estimates and about 160,000,000 the Manchurian affair expenditure. These sums must be provided, as they are irreducible. Besides, over Y100,000,000 is claimed as armament replenishment expenses. On this item, there seems to have been much discussion between the War Minister and the Finance Minister. General Araki emphasised the need of improving armaments, and supplies of war material.

On the other hand, the Finance Minister urged the necessary of deferring, as far as possible, such expenses as are not very urgently required, in consideration of the financial stress of the country.

JAPANESE STEEL INDUSTRY

BARON NAKASHIMA FINDS PROPOSED CONTROL DIFFICULT

Tokyo, Nov. 3. Baron Nakashima, Minister of Commerce and Industry, is experiencing great difficulty in the projected rationalisation of the steel industry, though he is anxious to see some definite progress made before the Diet session. In the previous session, he pledged control in the immediate future, and so shoulders a political responsibility.

Not long ago Baron Nakashima ordered the Mining Bureau and the Yawata Steel Works to investigate the extent to which the debts of all private concerns can be adjusted, as well as the possibility of rationalising production, and reducing costs. Mr. Noda, director of the Yawata Works, has since submitted a scheme, but not satisfied with it, the Commerce Minister has asked him to submit a more comprehensive plan.

Baron Nakashima points out the marked change in the situation. When the merger was first discussed some years ago by Mr. Tawara, the then Minister of Commerce and Industry, all private manufacturers were enthusiastic over the scheme, for they happened to be facing keen competition from Indian pig iron. Imports, however, are now off the market.

"CRACKED NUTS"

COMEDY AT THE QUEEN'S

"Cracked Nuts" at the Queen's is quite an amusing comedy, with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, two of the screen's favourite comedians.

The story is centred round the assassination of one King by another Wendall Graham's (Bert Wheeler) love for Betty Harrington (Dorothy Lee) is opposed by her Aunt Minnie (Edna May Oliver), who thinks he has too much money and too little sense. In an attempt to prove himself useful, Wendall invests his fortune in a revolution in the Kingdom of El Doranta, with the understanding that he will become King.

At the same time Zander Ulysses Parkhurst (Robert Woolsey), known as Zup for short, engages the present ruler in a crap game, winning the kingdom. When Wendall arrives at El Doranta, Zup is astonished to see Wendall, a former pal.

Wendall demands the kingdom and it is decided to settle the matter by duel. Wendall wins and under the agreement must assassinate Zup. The execution day arrives. A bomb intended for Zup unexpectedly explodes, tearing a huge hole in the ground and bringing in an oil gusher. Wendall and Zup call off the assassination and decide to form a republic. Aunt Minnie withdraws her objections and Wendall and Betty marry, so "all's well that ends hell."

"AMBASSADOR BILL"

AT THE ORIENTAL

When Rogers, whose latest Fox starring picture, "Ambassador Bill" opens to-morrow at the Oriental Theatre, first broke into fame as vaudeville's cowboy philosopher, he'd often finish a story and a rope trick with the remark: "Good luck that time. The trick and the joke came out just even." He made it look like an accident, but it's an art.

Everything that Rogers does is the perfection of casual, effortless, natural art. On the radio, as syndicated humorist and front page paragrapher, in musical revues and in movietone comedies, he captivates millions. He's an American habit and an international hit. Where there's a Will there's a

"LOVE ME TO-NIGHT"

MAURICE AND JEANETTE IN A FANTASY OF FRANCE

The new Maurice-Jeanette film, "Love Me To-night," showing at the King's Theatre, is in rather a different vein from their previous productions. It is a fantastic film—queer mechanical fantasy of photography, and of mentality. There is a cynical detachment, a sprite of calculating impishness through it all.

Maurice, a Paris tailor, pursues one of his creditors to a magnificent chateau whose inhabitants live back in eighteenth century days. There is a magnificent old duke, three maiden sisters—a most odd and amazing trio, a nightmare of shrill old age—and retainers to suit, including a perfect ogre of a butler. There are also two young girls, one of them Jeanette, burning to escape and get to Paris, and life. Into this mad, queer place, bursts Maurice, vital, self assured Maurice, who is persuaded by his terrified creditor to pass himself off as a baron. This is tracked down by a half-witted pedant-about-the house, but then an exiled royalty is hinted! The old ladies, the Duke and the two girls, swallow it whole fall for him, and complications follow usual film lines. Then there is a grand unmasking.

The tricks of echo; of repetition of an air from place to place (started in "Sunshine Susie" and "To-night's the Night") have developed.

Maurice sings a song: All Paris sings it; gypsies round their camp fire; soldiers on the march, take it up. In time the trick will be overworked, but at present it has the elements of surprise and humour, and a breaking of new ground in the art of the films.

R.B.

WOW!

"Ambassador Bill" is heralded as a Rogers "natural." In it, we see the famous "self-made diplomat" as the philosophical American ambassador to a little kingdom torn by royal loves and political intrigue. Seen with Rogers in this new comedy-drama are several popular favourites, including Marguerite Churchill, Greta Nissen, Tad Alexander, Gustav von Seyffertitz and Ray Milland.

PICTURE BOOKS, PAST AND PRESENT

EXHIBITION FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AT VICTORIA AND ALBERT MUSEUM

London, Oct. 15.—On Oct. 14th the Princess Royal opened an Exhibition of English Illustrated Books for Children at the Victoria and Albert Museum. Nearly two thousand of the illustrated books published for children during two and a half centuries are on view—a most fascinating collection, beginning with a silver-mounted hornbook about the size of the mirror in a woman's handbag, which was made in the middle of the sixteenth century, such as, it is said, the children of the great Duke of Marlborough used to learn the spelling of lord, lady, and very well to-day

The title of the earliest real book in the collection, dated 1672 is "Visible World, or a Picture and Nomenclature of all the Chief Things that are in the World." Books printed between 1672 and 1918 are displayed in a series of cases and frames and interspersed between them are a series of original drawings for illustrations. George Cruikshank (1792-1878) makes a fine showing both in books and original drawings. Tenniel's interpretation of Lewis Carroll is well represented by original drawings and an actual engraved woodblock of "Father William" and "the young man" has been lent by Messrs. Macmillan & Co. A selection of the books published since 1918, mostly clad in bright paper covers, cover a long series of tables.

GOSSIP & FACT.

Jones Enjoys Roast Goose.

The cast of Norman Lee's new comedy for B.I.P., "Money Talks," recently declared the dining room scene to be the "best ever." It was filmed one cold morning at midday, and when dinner was served in the form of roast goose with appropriate trimmings, and the artists approached the table with a good appetite. The one who most appreciated the fare was Griffiths Jones who had been in strict training for the past two weeks in preparation for his fight scene with Kid Berg, the whirlwind boxing champion, later in the picture.

Jones caught his trainer's eye, but blandly pointed to the lines in the script—"Jimmy eats heartily."

Drury Lane Profits.

Lord Lurgan, presiding at the shareholders' meeting of the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, London, said that the long and successful run of "Cavalcade" had again placed the theatre on a profit-earning basis.

Mr. Noel Coward had promised the first refusal of any future play he might write, which, in his opinion, would be a success at Drury Lane.

Becomes Star Overnight.

Gladdy Sewell, the well-known variety star, who makes her screen debut in Norman Lee's B.I.P. comedy, "Magenta Street," has become a revue star overnight. In this film, she plays the part of a lodging house slavey with operatic ambitions. For reasons of his own, Julian Rose, the popular Hebrew comedian, in the lead insists she shall be starred in a revue he is backing, in the hope that she will help, unconsciously, to make the show a failure. For the scenes, a revue was staged in the studio, and the proscenium, stage and auditorium specially built. A snappy chorus with Mary Charles, another interesting newcomer to B.I.P., put over a new number, "Money talks," and this item was followed by Gladdy Sewell, armed with a sentimental ballad.

"Double Trouble" on the Highway.

The sight of an elderly gentleman struggling with an aged car on the side of a country road attracted many sympathetic helpers recently until they discovered a film camera camouflaged in a nearby hedge and found that Harry Hughes was busily producing exteriors for his new B.I.P. comedy, while the would-be driver was soon recognised as Jimmy Godden, well remembered for his Doc Knott in "My Wife's Family."

Great Showmanship.

"Grand Hotel," is a film which will do a lot of good to the prestige of the cinema industry, and its clever and dignified exploitation by Mr. Sam Eckman, Metro's chief in England, is an object lesson in showmanship. I hope the British film chiefs whose idea of putting a film over is by asking critics to trade shows long before the film is shown publicly, will match the result of Mr. Eckman's system of presenting an outstanding attraction.

Elstree Stumps.

Viola Tree, who is making her film debut in a leading part in Monty Banks B.I.P. comedy "For the Love of Mike" is using a shooting stick in her characterization of a nouvelle riche hostess. In the film she perches on it in the garden, drawing-room, or anywhere that fatigue might overcome her. She has found it even more useful for taking a few moment's rest when waiting on the "set" between scenes and now the other members of the cast vie for its loan when Miss Tree is working. It is particularly in demand for Renee Mac ready whose beach pyjamas dic bathing-pool scene, are so tight she is not allowed to sit down.

ST. JOSEPH'S DRAW WITH ATHLETICS

An enthusiatic crowd attended the Club ground yesterday to witness the clash between the evenly matched Athletics and St. Joseph's elevens, and they were in no way disappointed, for the standard of play was high, and at times brilliant. Suen Kam Shun drew first blood for the Athletics in the first half when his shot beat the goalie badly, but A. V. Gosano equalled the scores shortly after. B. Gosano gave the Saints a half time lead of two goals to one when his shot found the opening.

The Athletic forward lines were working like a machine with Suen Kam Shun outstandingly brilliant. When Mak Shui Hon equalised the score and shortly afterwards Suen again found the goal mouth to give the Athletics a 3-2 lead, the excitement reached fever pitch.

Fighting every inch of the way the St. Joseph's eleven clapped on the pace and retaliated with the equalising goal a few minutes before game ended. It was a splendid game throughout with the honours even.

Teams:—

Athletic.—Wong Yun Shing; Mak Shui Hon, Ho Cho Yuen; Lam Yuk Ying, Wong Shui Wa, Lai Kwok Chui; Tan Kwong Shun, Li Hung Ching, Lee Wai Koon, Suen Kam Shun, Can Kwok Iu.

Saint Joseph's.—Marquis, Leonard, Gomes, Victor, Costa, S. Souza, L. Souza, N. Beltrao, A. V. Gosano, B. Gosano, Sabhan.

SOUTH CHINA ALL THE WAY

In a game where scientific tactics prevailed over kick and rush methods, the brilliant South China team completely outplayed the Club de Recreio and overwhelmed them in a crushing 9 to nil defeat.

As the game proceeded, the Southerners superiority became the more marked until at the finish, it was just a matter of conjecture as to how many goals the visitors would pile up. Tam Kong Pak had a day out in kicking six goals, while Leung Fat Wing secured two and Ching Shui Hong one.

The winners a superior team in all departments.

Teams:—

South China.—Lui Thin Chan; Lau Mau, Leung Iu Chan; Tong Kwan, Loung Wing Chiu, Lee Kwok Wai; Yeung Sui Yick, Leung Fat Wing, Tam Kong Pak, Wong Mee Shun, Ching Shui Hong.

Recreio.—Fernandes, Xavier, Neves, Marques, Figueiredo, Assumpcao, Santos, Guterres, Rocha, Gomes, Silva.

FIRST DIVISION

BORDERERS v. KOWLOON

Borderers beat Kowloon easily by six goals to one, five of their goals scored by Jones. The game was played on the Kowloon ground.

The Borderers were without Morrison; Channings partnered Mullane; Davies returned to his former position to partner Harris, and Lakeman led the attack.

The Borderers played a good, open game, and Duncan's centres kept the insides busy. The first goal came from an error by Watkins, Jones being the scorer. The Borderers kept up the pressure, and after the Kowloon keeper had stopped two hard shots Jones sent a header into the net. Before the end of the first half Jones had scored again, after some neat work by Davies and Harris.

The Borderers' fourth goal came from Duncan—a very fine shot. After this the soldiers eased pressure a little, but Kowloon made no progress against a steady defence.

Kowloon's goal was scored by White shortly after the interval, a free kick having been given against the Borderers' goal keeper.

The final stages saw two more goals by the ubiquitous Jones.

The result was:—

Kowloon	1
Borderers	6

The teams:—

Kowloon: — Gurevitch; Wells, Eastman, Watkins, McKelvie, Bliss; G. White, Webb, Nelems, Blake and Bickford.

Borderers:—Johnson; Mullane, Channings; Morgan, Podmore, Williams; Harris, Davies, Lakeman, Jones and Duncan.

CLUB v. NAVY

The Club failed badly against the Navy and went down by two clear goals. Rodger, Martin, and Hynes had however a gruelling time against a line of bustling forwards.

Hynes again partnered Martins and Williams was at outside right. The Navy were without Rawson, Gilbert returning to the side, and Purkins, was promoted from the second string.

It was at half-back that the Navy excelled, Shirras being outstanding.

Howe missed a couple of opportunities and was out of form.

Dominy and Fowler were not at their best.

Duncan however, did very well in deed.

After a quiet start play settled in mid-field. The Navy attacked strongly, and Davies hit the upright. Martin cleared, but a little later Purkins scored when Rodgers dashed out to assist the full back.

The Navy had the best of the game in the second half, but Hynes, Martin and Rodger defended strongly.

Williams placed a couple of good corners, but Gilbert and Hall sent their forwards away again for Monger to shoot wide when well placed. From a corner Monger sent in a good shot and Rodger brought off a wonderful save. A minute later another well-placed corner by Cormack resulted in the Navy going further ahead, Purkins shot, and Martin cleared from the goal line, but the ball went out to Davies who scored with a fast shot.

Result:—

Navy	2

POLICE v. R.A.

The Police at Happy Valley lost by the odd goal in three to The Gunners.

From the start, the Gunners took play into the Police area, resulting in Walker opening the score from close in.

The Gunners increased their lead through Gough, after a fine bout of passing, and half-time saw the soldiers two goals ahead. In the second half R.A. pressed strongly but missed a large number of Chances. They failed to score and a raid by the Police resulted in Pile netting the ball. Allen, Taylor and Pardoe all played a good game for the Artillery, and with one lapse, the soldiers' defence was very safe:—

Result:—

Artillery	2
Police	1

Artillery:—Combey; Allan, Taylor; Collier, Pardoe, Rodgers; Woods, Gough, Moore, Walker and Seal.

Police:—Minty; Blackburn, Pile, Brittain, Stephens, Dowman; T. Pile, Wheeler, Johnston, Moss and Williams.

Referee:—Mr. Baldwin.

SECOND DIVISION

NAVY v. SOUTH CHINA

The Navy played very well in their encounter against South China on the Railway's ground. After being one goal down in the opening half, they eventually ran out winners by the odd goal in five.

The Chinese opened the scoring through Ng Po Kim, who accepted Lau Wing Kwong's pass over Longley's head, to place the ball into the net.

In the second half, Benton broke through for the Navy and a few minutes afterwards put the Navy ahead.

Elgley increased the lead. Towards the close the Chinese, returned to the attack for Ng Po Kim to met his second goal.

The teams:—

South China:—Tang Sik Hang; Chan Wing Iu, Siu Kwok Sui; Chung Fai Lam, Lau Kwok Wai; Sde To Hoi: To Wai Lung, Lau Wing Kwang, Kam Sui Wai, Ng Po Kim and Chan Wing Kam.

Navy: — Longley: Buchanan, Ware; Burrows, Turner, Ashman; Warne, Benton, Elgley, Sayer and Smith.

LINCOLNS v. KOWLOON

The Lincolns opened their scoring from the kick off, Malpas netting. Kowloon retaliated and within a few minutes Hast equalised. The Lincolns were decidedly better in their midfield tactics, but their finishing was poor.

After the interval The Lincolns were soon on the offensive and Malpas put his side ahead. Hocquard tested Cook with a rasping shot, and Malpas met the rebounding ball to head it into the net.

A breakaway by Kowloon saw Hast in possession, and the Kowloon winger netted well out of Deacon's reach.

Malpas just before the final whistle again broke through to beat Cook with a low drive. Result: Lincolns 4 Kowloon 2.

Kowloon:—Cook; Palmer, Bowman; Trilley, Whitfield, Greenberg; Hast, White, Duffield, S. Phillips and L. Phillips.

Lincolns:—Deacon; Poteroft Rowden; Potter, Worrell, Bacon; Hocquard, McGrann, Malpas, Barnes and Clayton.

GUNNERS v. EASTERN

R.A. had the Eastern on the defence in their encounter at Happy Valley, and ran out winners by 5 goal to nil.

The Gunners opened the scoring after a quick start. Hardy netting with a good effort.

In the second half the Gunners routed the Eastern team scoring another three goals through Frearson.

R.A.: Holmes; Leadbeater and Lowen: Ward, Greenshield and Harris: Snooks, Hardy, Frearson, Smith and Hopkins.

Eastern:—Tze Po Wai, Luk Fuk Wa, Leung Yun Hung, Hi Chi Young, Cheung Yui Nam, Yuen Tak, Lai Tong Choi, Lam Ping Tang, Ng Ying Ki, Ho Yui Him, Lau Hay Man.

BORDERERS v. TSUNG TSIN

The Borderers won a hard match against Tsung Tsin at Happy Valley by two clear goals.

In the second half, the Borderers could not add to their score, the play being around the Tsung Tsin goal most of the time, weak shooting and packing of the goal only preventing the score from reaching double figures.

Borderers: — Williams; Mountford, Harris; Court, Bebbington, Wallace; Pritchard, Fortey, Hamblyn, Morris and Mathias.

Tsung Tsin:—Wong Kit Hong, Yeung Chi Cheung, Ip Wai Lam; Ma Lak Man, Lam Tak Po, Chan Koon Ping; Chow Keang Kwong, Wong Shuk San, Wong Hang Lam, Kwok Yim Sang and Tse Shin Yu.

ATHLETIC v. ST. JOSEPH'S

At the Valley the Athletic won by three clear goals. The Saints goalkeeper played at the top of his form saving the Saints from a heavier defeat.

St. Josephs:—Marques; Rahmin, Hyder; Hussain, Anthony, Gutterres; Mossa, Ali, Sousa, Santos and Victor.

Athletic:—Liu Kim Ming; Wong Ping, Pang Kwong Wing; Wong Wing Lim, Ho Ki Cheong, Wong Shui Woo; Cheng Kwang Tang, Lo Chai Wan, Shai Pin Yi, Loo Chi Yin and Fung King Yu.

EWO v. CLUB

The Club on their own ground, were outplayed by Ewo.

Au Ping Ming opened the scoring with a first time drive and Ewo went further ahead when Au King Feung scored from close in. After the interval Au Ping Ming, Au King Fueng (2) and Ho Yun Hin scored further goals.

Lin Yeung Tong was never seriously troubled, and the Ewo defence had an easy afternoon.

Club:—Simmons; Lowe, Sloan; McKellar, Moss, Hooper; Milne, Duncan, Bell, Farrow and Railton.

Ewo: Lin Yeung Tong; Ma Ping

CLUB BEAT THE ARMY.

After a fast and exciting game on the Sookunpoo ground on Saturday the Club beat the Army, at Rugby football by a goal and a penalty goal (8 points) to a try 3 points.

On the run of the play the Club were lucky to win, and they owed a lot to McElney, who in addition to playing an excellent game in the Club scrum, scored the equalising try, converted it himself, and dropped a penalty goal shortly before the final whistle.

The Army try was actually scored by Hamilton, but Martin was mainly responsible, giving a safe pass after a fine individual effort.

The Army pack was on the light side and though they played a fast and dashing game were throughout at a disadvantage.

OLDEST GOLF CLUBS

80 FROM SCOTLAND FOR AMERICAN MUSEUM

Eighty of the oldest golf clubs in existence have been collected in Scotland for an international golf museum which is being started at Newport News, Virginia.

The clubs, ranging in date from 1800 till 1895, have just been taken to the United States.

Two golf balls made in 1931 also were exported.

"There are only seven clubs in existence older than the ones I have," said Mr. John Campbell, who gathered the antiques for the museum.

The ancient golf balls are the famous "feather" balls, which were popular until the gutta-percha balls replaced them. They are made of horse leather soaked in oil and stuffed with gull feathers.

ANTI-"RED" WARFARE

KIANGSI COMMUNISTS' BID FOR N. FUKIEN REPORTED

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, November 12.

The return to the front lines in Kiangsi of General Yu Hon Mau, commander of the 1st Cantonese Army, after a protracted stay in Canton, is generally interpreted to signify the early resumption of punitive activities against the Communist forces in Kiangsi.

Local military dispatches, however, state that the main body of Communists in Kiangsi, whose attempted advance towards Canton was checked by the government forces a few months ago, and who have since retreated to their strongholds in eastern Kiangsi, are both feeling the effects of the general blockade enforced on the Red area, and alarmed by reports of Marshal Chiang Kai Shek's entry into Kiangsi to take charge over the anti-Communist operations personally. The Communists are therefore said to be making an attempt to move their headquarters to the northern part of Fukien, along the Fukien-Chekiang borders.

In fact, there have recently been reports of the arrival already in northern Fukien of certain Communist elements, and detachments of the 10th Route Army have been despatched to that locality to deal with the situation before it grows more serious.

In the event of the anti-Communist operations having to be transferred from eastern Kiangsi to northern Fukien, the Cantonese forces now in southern Kiangsi will then no doubt be able to proceed more thoroughly with their plans for the pacification and rehabilitation of the areas now occupied.

A resolution was reached for a meeting of the Provincial Bureau and the Canton Municipality for an agreement over the respective jurisdictions in the treatment of public properties. WUCHOW NEWS LETTER

NANNING MARITIME CUSTOMS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Wuchow, Nov. 11.

Mr. Casati, commissioner of the Wuchow Chinese Maritime Customs has been transferred to Kongmoon and left here yesterday by the s.s. Tai Hing. Mr. Moore, who takes Mr. Casati's place, arrived here last week.

Nanning Customs.

Trade at Nanning has fallen off seriously, both imports and exports showing big reductions; so much so that the Custom house is not meeting expenses from its own collections. A report is current that in consequence of this the abolition of the Customs House will be considered in the near future.

Grim Fate of Communist.

The notorious Communist leader Wei Pat Kwan, who has been harassing the Jung Lan and Fung Shan districts for two or three years, has been shot dead by one of his own comrades. His head was struck off, sent to Nanning, and exhibited "for public identification." Wei's widow has also been arrested, and the Government feels confident that with the present strong forces engaged on the job, the remainder of the Communists will soon be rounded up.

Cinema Stars from Canton.

A number of cinema actors and actresses, dressed in the very latest styles, including some astonishing slit skirts, arrived here some time ago. They proceeded to Nanning and Kweilin where shots were taken for a new film whose action requires as a setting the beautiful hills and rivers of that district. They have nearly completed the work and are now due to return to Canton.

Personal.

General Pei Chung Hsi, the vice-commander-in-chief of the Kwangsi Army, is making a tour inspection of all troops in the Province. He arrived recently at Kweilin where he will stay for some considerable time.

General Li Chung Jen who is now in Nanning is also on a tour of inspection.

Wuchow has a active and capable magistrate in Mr. Chan Man Chung. He takes personal command of the Volunteers Corp at Wuchow, and has been very busy suppressing bandits in the district. He has a capable colleague in the Chief-of-Police and together they are making Wuchow and the surrounding countryside a model dis-

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

ENGINEERING STANDARDS ADOPTED

Hankow, Nov. 8.—Engineering standards governing highway construction were adopted at the 4th session of the Highway Conference yesterday, following discussions by the special committee appointed for the purpose. The suggestions advanced by the committee include definite specifications regarding road foundations, surfacing, bridgework, drainage, etc.

A large number of new proposals was submitted to the Conference at yesterday's session. Accordingly, two sub-committees, one on highway administration and finance and the other on technical work, were appointed to examine them before consideration by the Conference.—Kuo Min.

wound up, according to his plans, and a new office opened in Hunan province to look after the finishing of the portion of the line that is in Hunan territory. It is thought that matters will be facilitated in this manner. It is understood that Director Ling's plan has the endorsement of Director Li Sin Kan of the Canton-Shiuchow section of the Railway, who has been doing much to expedite the early completion of the whole line.

INSULT TO MOHAMMEDANS

CHINESE PERIODICAL SUSPENDED

Nanking, Nov. 8.—"Why do Mohammedans not eat pork?" The publication of an article under the above title in a recent issue of the Nan Hua Wen I (a Chinese periodical) has aroused the ire of Mohammedans and is likely to cost its publishers, the Pei Hsin Book Store at Shanghai, summary suspension of business.

Alleging that the articles in question casts a serious aspersion upon Mohammedans in China, representatives of the latter have petitioned the Government for drastic action against the publishers.

The question was brought up at yesterday's informal meeting of the Standing Committee of the C.E.C. The view was generally held that at such a moment of grave national crisis publication of articles likely to arouse antipathy between the five races in China should be strictly prohibited.

It was, therefore, tentatively decided the Pei Hsin Book Store should be dealt with severely and the periodical in question, namely, the Nan Hua Wen I, should be ordered to suspend publication immediately. It was further decided that passages in school textbooks which emphasize racial differences should be expunged in order to prevent racial prejudices from being implanted in the immature minds of pupils.—Kuo Min.

CENTENARY OF CHICAGO

CHINA TO PARTICIPATE IN EXPOSITION

Nanking, Nov. 8.—The Central Government has decided to appropriate $100,000 as expenses for China's participation in the Centenary Exposition of the City of Chicago, which is to be held next spring.

It is understood that the exhibits will include an assortment of rare jade and ivory articles which will be displayed in a building of Chinese architecture.—Kuo Min.

KIAOCHOW-TSINAN RAILWAY

QUESTION OF REDEMPTION FROM JAPAN

Nanking, Nov. 8.—Mr. Ko Kwang Ting, Chairman of the Administrative Committee for the Kinochow-Tsinan Railway, is at the Capital conferring with Mr. Ku Meng Yu, Minister of Railways, concerning the question of the redemption of the Railway from the Japanese.

According to Minister Ku, the Ministry is determined to raise the sum of $40 millions required for the purchase of the line within the next three years.—Kuo Min.

A MODEL TEA PLANTATION

Nanking, Nov. 8.—A model tea plantation to experiment in methods of improving tea-growing is to be established jointly by the Central Agricultural Experimental Station, and the Shanghai and Hankow Bureaux of Inspection and Testing of Commercial Commodities under the Ministry of Industry. A Tea Improvement Committee is also to be organized for planning and directing this projects.

It is learnt that arrangements are being made with the Cheming Tea Planting Company of Hsiushui, Kiangsi, for the lease of its plantation in connection with the scheme. The cost of upkeep is to be jointly borne by the three organs.—Kuo Min.

HONG KONG, NOVEMBER 14, 1932.

HEALTH OF THE BRITISH NATION

DURING the last ten years increasing attention has been paid both by government authorities, and by individuals, to the question of health. There are those who consider that the subject has become an obsession, though in the Colony no one denies that the Sanitary and Medical authorities are tackling an enormous task in the curing and prevention of disease, especially consumption and malaria. What is being achieved locally can be studied in the admirable Report for 1931 of the Director of Medical Services. In Great Britain remarkable things are being done and it must have been a source of considerable satisfaction to Sir GEORGE NEWMAN, the Chief Medical Officer of the British Ministry of Health, to be able to state in his recent annual report that "never before have the English people enjoyed the measure of health which they have to-day." The annual expenditure of the public health service in England and Wales—which includes public medical services, housing, water supply, sewage, disposal of refuse, and benefits under the State's insurance scheme—amounts to approximately sixty million pounds; and to this vast sum must be added the large amounts given voluntarily to hospitals and paid as contributions to numerous private sick-benefit societies.

In the last fifty years, and especially since the beginning of the present century, the public health authorities in England have done excellent work for the nation. Statistics contained in Sir GEORGE NEWMAN'S report show that whereas in the year 1880 the average new-born boy could expect to live 41 years and the average new-born girl 44 years, the expectation of life at birth to-day is 58 years for a boy and 60 for a girl. In other words, the average citizen in Great Britain has had, in the course of two generations, no less than 15 years added to his life. That is a very considerable achievement. In the last fifty years the death rate in England and Wales has been reduced from 21 to 12 per 1,000 inhabitants, and in the same period infant mortality—that is, the death of children during the first year of life—fell from 149 to 60 per 1,000 births. On the other hand the birth-rate has declined to such an extent that Sir GEORGE NEWMAN prophesies that, in spite of the saving of 40,000 infant lives annually, the population of Great Britain will have attained or passed its maximum by the middle of the present century.

Although the death-rate has fallen so conspicuously, the sums paid by the State to sick and disabled persons have risen steadily. But this does not mean that sickness has increased. The probable explanation is that patients now approach their doctors at an earlier stage of their complaint, rather than wait until they are seriously ill, that they claim longer periods of incapacity under the benefit scheme, and that the medical men concerned are more inclined to agree that this is a wise course by giving them the required benefit certificates. This attitude is entirely in harmony with the modern trend of medical science, which urges early diagnosis and treatment, and tries to prevent disease rather than allow it to develop fully and then attempt to cure it. Such a course may add to the State's expense in keeping the nation fit, but there can be no doubt that it is money well spent. As regards the physical condition of England's children and infants, it is satisfactory to note that there is no evidence of serious malnutrition despite adverse economic conditions.

Though on the whole the national state of health must be regarded as very satisfactory, the report mentions three "black spots."

THE PIECE GOODS MARKET

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORT

The Chamber of Commerce imports—prices current gives the following report on:—

Cotton Piece Goods and Fancy Cotton Goods.

The Spinner's strike settlement recorded in the last report was a little premature but news of resumption of work in the Mills was received this week. Further business is reported in White Shirtings but Manchester prices are firm with an upward tendency and more than a few of the offers have proved too low. Clearances of Staples have shown some improvement and local prices for Greys and Whites remain steady.

The latest Cotton prices to hand are those of the 11th inst.:—

Mid. American "Spot," 5.60d.
Egyptian Sakel. F.G.F. "Spot," 7.99d.

Woollens.

Owing to the large carry-over from last season, orders for light weight Suitings and Palm Beach cloths which are usually placed about this time are lacking and very little new business in woollens can be reported.

A fair amount of woollen cargo is going into consumption but the Chinese import taxes are holding up goods in many cases. Efforts are being made to move Woollens thrown on the market through failures; some sales are reported but at very low prices. Trade in Wool Yarns is quiet, with prices depressed on account of large stocks.

. . . . . It comes as a rather unpleasant surprise to discover that "road mortality" is among the "seven or eight principal factors of mortality." In 1931 sixteen deaths occurred per 100,000 of the population as a result of road accidents, in addition to 184,000 cases of major or minor injuries. The second "black spot," is that "the mother has not shared equally with her child in the benefits arising from the improvement of the public health," so that maternal mortality remains what it has been for some time, four per thousand. The third unfavourable point in the report is that there has been an increase in deaths from cancer of 30 per million of the population. The report points out that the increase may partly be due to the increased ability in diagnosis, in which case the disease is, of course, only apparently increasing, and secondly that owing to the increased length of life there are now among the population a great proportion of persons of advanced years, or, as the report puts it, of "cancer age."

That the protracted economic depression has not affected the health of the British nation, and that on the whole the forward march continues at a most satisfactory rate, are facts with which we have every reason to feel pleased, and the untiring energy and broad vision of the Chief Medical Officer is an assurance that every obstacle on the road to perfect national health will ultimately be removed.

Ju-Jitsu "Flying Squad."

Tokyo.—A "flying squad" of young policemen specially expert in ju-jitsu is being formed in Tokyo as a precaution against disturbances.

There will be between 50 and 100 of them. Each must be unmarried and an expert fencer, wrestler and revolver shot.

The Better Way.

A word in season by the Recorder (Sir Ernest Wild, K.C.) in an arson case at the Old Bailey, London:—

However much you dislike your mother-in-law, you must not set fire to her. The proper course is to heap coals of fire on the good lady's head.

Von Papen's Position.

London, Nov. 7.—The bulk of the press seas in the result of the German election, a grave reverse for the Chancellor, Herr von Papen. The Times declares that no government can go on legislating by emergency decrees against the will of ninety per cent. of the nation, so that the Cabinet will have either to broaden its basis or to resort to open dictatorship. News Chronicle foresees a possible return to a Bruening Cabinet. — Transocean-Kuo Min.

Long-Lived Families.

The recent death of Josiah Medcalf, Britain's veteran railway officer, on his hundredth birthday serves as a striking reminder of the curious way in which longevity goes in families: his brother, it is stated, died when just over a hundred, and two sisters lived to be 97 and 98 respectively.

An even more remarkable case was reported from Nish, in Serbia, last May. A peasant died at the ripe old age of 127, leaving a brother and a son, aged respectively 115 and 97.

Paderewski's Excuse.

Ignace Paderewski the famous pianist, who in 1919 became Poland's first Premier, is now mentioned as likely to become Chief Executive.

An amusing story is told of Paderewski, when president, at a time when Poland's money was worth less than paper.

He had made an appointment with Sir W. Max-Muller then British Minister at Warsaw. Paderewski was an hour late, and when politely told that "time was money" he replied "yes but money is only paper in this Country."

London's Vulnerability.

Air Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, Britain's new Air Defence Chief, has no illusions as to London's vulnerability from the air. Some years ago he explained that it was within the bounds of possibility that, in the event of another war, an enemy would drop a hundred tons of bombs over London every twenty-four hours, and that the principal object of these attacks would probably be not the terrorisation of the inhabitants, but the destruction of the centre of Government. "London is badly situated for these attacks," he said, "because it is near the coast, and the amount of warning of the approach of enemy aircraft is likely to be very small."

Don Loring Home Again.

Don Rein Loring, one of Spain's leading pilots, has returned Home from his successful flight across Europe and Asia to the Philippine Islands. He earned £40 for flying half-way round the world. Loring was forced to sell his airplane to meet his expenses. It was purchased by the Spanish colony in Manila, who subscribed enough to buy it and leave the aviator a profit of £40. In relating his experiences Don Loring said that the authorisation to fly over Japan cost him £50. Don Loring, it will be remembered, paid a visit to Hong Kong during his flight, and it was from here that he hopped off to Manila. Whenever he went his modesty and personal charms received him a host of friends.

Aquery for Sportsman.

"Various explanations have been suggested to account for man's curious antagonism towards the badger," writes a Native Lover in a London paper. "A farm labourer with whom I discussed the matter told me that badgers should be shot because they were 'evil.' When pressed for further details regarding the "evilness" of the badger, he said with doubtful logic—that it must be 'evil' because its legs were shorter on one side than on the other, this remarkable phenomenon being caused (he assured me) by its habit of running along the sides of hills.

A more likely explanation of this enmity is the tendency of people nowadays to regard anything that is unfamiliar as dangerous, and fit for destruction.

The Silent Woman.

"The Miracle," following its brilliant season in London, was Cooper produced at the Palace Theatre, Manchester, Lady Diana went on the tour again to play the part of the Madonna.

Lady Diana confessed herself eager to go back to Lancashire, as she so put it, in a new rôle. "The only time I have been to Lancashire," she said, "was during my husband's political contests in the Oldham Division. The one thing I do hope for is that the girls of Oldham will want to come to see me in my first stage appearance in Lancashire. It may sound incongruous for a woman to say it," she added, "but I especially like my part in 'The Miracle' because I have nothing to say."

The New Halo!

A change in women's hat fashions leads almost inevitably to the introduction of a new style in hairdressing, and the recent craze for berets and other tight-fitting headgears has brought about the invention, it is may be so called, of the cringle. This, as its name denotes, is something that is neither a shingle nor a bingle, but a fashion having a little of both these styles, with the addition of curls. These curls will roll tightly round the nape of the neck and cluster at the sides and over the ears, giving the appearance when a hat is worn of a halo that will soften the outline of even the most severe features.

Bitten by a Dragon.

Mr. H. Budd, overseer of the Reptile House at the Zoological Garden, was bitten by one of the "Dragons" at the Zoo. He was feeding it with a dead pigeon, when the creature, in its eagerness, darted forward and snapped at his wrist. Dr. Burgess Barnett, the curator, attended Mr. Budd, and the wound had to be kept under observation for some days to guard against blood poisoning.

The dragon in question is a Komodo lizard, four feet long, hailing from Sunda Island, off the Azores. It arrived at the Zoo a few years ago and earned some notoriety by its outbursts of fury. The late Miss Joan Proctor, then Curator of reptiles and amphibians, succeeded in taming the newcomer so far that it would lick her hand. On one occasion it allowed her to perform a minor operation on it.

Looking Back 50 Years.

Due, doubtless to the prolonged spell of dry weather we have had, a fire of hugh dimensions is now ranging in Canton. I have not time to gather many particulars before the night boat leaves but will write again by the Honam.

The fire broke out about nine o'clock, this morning in a house in Yeung Chung Street, at the South Gate, and spread with great rapidity, until, at the time I write, some half a dozen streets, containing about 550 shops and houses, have been consumed. The fire is still progressing and it is possible it may go on until it burns itself out, for the woodwork of the houses is highly combustible, and gets scorched by the heat before the flames communicate. The street in which the fire originated was occupied by shoemakers' shops and some few family houses. It was fairly well built.—Hong Kong Daily Press, November 14, 1882.

WAR DEBTS AND DISARMAMENT

IMPORTANT MEETING AT CHEQUERS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 13.

IMPORTANT moves were going on behind the scenes yesterday in regard to the problems of War Debts and disarmament.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who is spending the week-end at Chequers, was visited by Sir John Simon and Doctor Benes, a rapporteur of the Disarmament Conference, who arrived in London from Paris on Friday. It is believed they discussed the British disarmament proposals which Sir J. Simon will submit to the Disarmament Conference, and which, it is said, will include the abolition of aerial bombing, international regulation of civil aviation, scrapping of the most powerful battleships, limitation of cruisers to a maximum of seven thousand tons and a reduction in the size and number of submarines.

Newspapers anticipate the United States will agree to the Anglo-French suggestions for an extension of the War Debt's Moratorium, but will stipulate that any proposal for a permanent reduction in the debts must be accompanied by drastic cuts in Europe's armaments expenditure.

DISCUSSION ON DISARMAMENT

FAR-REACHING DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, Nov. 11

DEVELOPMENTS of far-reaching importance, which may serve to remove the obstacles impeding the progress of disarmament and place discussion of this vital international problem upon a much more hopeful basis, are likely to occur in the Bureau of the Disarmament Conference next week.

Not only will the French plan, already outlined, be elaborated and expounded by M. Herriot, France's Premier, but Sir John Simon, who is flying to Geneva on Sunday, will present in detail proposals which are a natural sequel to the British Government's statement of policy contained in his important House of Commons speech on Thursday night.

In regard to the proposal that frank recognition of Germany's claim to equality of status should be accompanied by a declaration in which European states would engage not to attempt to resolve any present or future differences between them by resort to force, such an undertaking would imply something more than reaffirmation of the Kellogg Pact, which precluded the resorting to war as an instrument of national policy.

The world is familiar with occasions which, although there has technically been no resort to war, there has undoubtedly been resort to force. It is with the idea of precluding employment of such measures that the proposal is put forward.

New Factor in World Politics.

Sir Austen Chamberlain has described the Foreign Secretary's statement as not merely a speech, but a new factor in world politics, and a factor with an immense power for good. It received practically unanimous approval in the House of Commons and in the Press.

FRENCH WAR DEBT PLAN

NOTE SENT TO U.S.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

A FRENCH WAR Debt note, which the State Department says is in the same category as the British, was received last evening.

The report offers no comment, but it is suggested in some quarters that Great Britain and France have reached some understanding.

A FURTHER ADVANCE

RUGBY, Nov. 12.

The presentation of the British Note to the United States of America marks a further advance in the discussion of the question of War Debts. The contents of the British Note have been revealed to the Governments of France, Belgium and Italy and it is reported that the French Government has addressed a communication to Washington on the subject of payments due by France next month. Other debtor states are expected to take similar action shortly.

The terms of the British Note have been telegraphed by the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Stimson, to President Hoover who is expected to arrive at Washington from California on Tuesday.

The date of publication of the Note is not yet fixed.

MR. BALDWIN ON AERIAL WARFARE

OF OPINION THAT IT SHOULD BE ABOLISHED

RUGBY, Nov. 11.

"AERIAL warfare is still in its infancy, its potentialities incalculable and inconceivable. I am firmly convinced," declared Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, "that if it is possible the air forces of the world ought to be abolished. But if they are abolished you still have potential bombers. In my view it is necessary for the nations of the world concerned to devote the whole of their minds to this question of civil aviation and see if it is possible to control civil aviation to a condition that such disarmament would be feasible.

"Undoubtedly, though she had no air force, Germany should be a participant in any such discussions."

Mr. Baldwin was speaking in the House of Commons in respect of the disarmament suggestions put forward by Sir John Simon.

The debate created an immense impression on the crowded house and has since been subject of much comment.

Sense of Fear.

"What the world suffers from, is a sense of fear," said Mr. Baldwin, "and no one thing is more responsible for that instinctive fear than fear of the air. Up to the time of the last war civilians were exempt from the worst perils of war. They suffered sometimes from hunger, from loss of sons and relatives, but now, in addition, they suffer from constant fear not only of being killed themselves, but what is perhaps worse for a man, of seeing his wife and his children killed from the air.

"The cause is the appalling speed that air has bred in modern warfare. In the next war you will find any town within reach of an aerodrome can be bombed within the first five minutes of the war to an extent inconceivable in the last war and the question is whose morale will be shattered quickest by the preliminary bombing.

"No Protection from Bombs."

"It is well also for the man in the street to realise there is no power on earth that can protect him from being bombed. Whatever people may tell him, the bomber will always get through. That is very easy to understand if you realise area of space. Take any large town you like in this island or on the continent and consider the range for defence of that town and its suburbs. You have to split the air up into sectors and you may have aeroplanes 20,000 feet high in air or perhaps higher. It is a matter of mathematical calculation that you will have sectors of from tens to hundreds of cubic miles to defend. Imagine 100 cubic miles of air and calculate how many aeroplanes you will need to leave no chance of an enemy getting through. It cannot be done. There is no expert in Europe who would say it can. The only defence is offence. It means you would have to kill more civilians, more women and children first, if you want to save yours from your enemy."

Among other things, Mr. Baldwin said he anticipated another great war in his life-time.

UGLY SCENES IN DUBLIN

POLICE CHARGE CROWDS THROUGHOUT THE NIGHT

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

DUBLIN, Nov. 11.

A VERY grave clash between the so-called Republican Army volunteers and Dublin police, has resulted in the injury of many persons in baton charges and the street fighting which followed the general disorders.

Peace is far from being returned to the city.

All available police were called out in consequence of an outbreak of disorder following a parade of thousands of Irish Republican Army troops through the principal streets. The military formation of the procession was eventually held up by a cordon of police who charged with batons. The republicans then stoned the windows of shops displaying poppies and seized poppies from passers-by.

Baton charges became more frequent as the night advanced. The centre of the city was surrounded by Police.

Many were taken to hospital and there were several arrests.

Following a protest to the Dail, by the Cosgravite, General Mul-

MORE UNREST AT GENEVA

10,000 TROOPS NOW IN CITY

POLICE CHARGE DEMONSTRATORS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, Nov. 12.

AN urgly situation is developing and two more battalions of Valais troops have been summoned to the city.

One of the Geneva battalions, after fraternising with the demonstrators, was confined under guard in the Exhibition Building where the soldiers broke windows on the ground floor, sang the Internationale and are now joking with the people outside.

Natives of Geneva abused the Valaisans for coming to the city. A Valaisan commander, who was taking no risks ordered a hose to be played on the crowd. Booing ensued, and some of the more venturesome were ready to attempt to seize the hose but were dissuaded on hearing an order to fix bayonets. The police, with drawn sabres, charged the mob which dispersed.

All Quiet.

LATER

All was quiet at midnight and the troops have been withdrawn to barracks. Rain drove the demonstrators indoors.

There are now ten thousand troops in Geneva, or one to every fifteen inhabitants.

The crowds on November 11 were never very large. They were well-behaved, except for a few rowdies and demonstrators at the barracks, mostly youths many of which are students. Apart from booing and the singing of the Internationale there was not the slightest indication of dangerous feeling.

The soldiers did not seem to regard the situation seriously.

Most of Indian members of conference who are not already in Britain arrive to-day.

URMI HEAVILY FINED

"GUILTY UNDER EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES."

Henry Urmi, garage proprietor of 455, Lockhart Road, Wanchai, described as of Swiss nationality, was on Saturday found guilty of indecent assault, under extenuating circumstances, upon a Chinese girl of 21. Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy, sentenced him to three months' imprisonment, with the option of a fine of $200, and also ordered him to pay compensation of $50 to the complainant.

Mr Schofield said that the stories of the accused and the complainant were both hard to believe. He suspected that complainant told a pack of lies to protect her good name.

Accused's story was also not to be believed in parts.

His Worship added: "The complainant is not to be sympathised with, for in my opinion, she had the chance to go home but, playing with fire, got burnt. She has suffered some injury so I order the accused to pay her compensation of $50."

cahy that he and others had been threatened with death, Mr. de Valera declared every power in the state would be used to the fullest possible extent to preserve right of free discussion of public questions. No individuals or groups of individuals could assume the duties which properly belonged to the state.

KWAI YOUNG'S INSTITUTE PRIZE-GIVING

SHORTHAND AND TYPING

The Kwai Young's Institute of Typewriting and Shorthand held the first Graduation Ceremony in the Hall of Hop Yat Church, Bonham Road, on Saturday evening. There was a large attendance of Chinese and foreigners for the presentation of certificates and prizes to the successful students by Mr. Mok Ying Kwai.

Mr. Mok Ying Kwai, in the course of his speech, paid tributes to the Institute on its excellent performance. Mr. T. Kwai Young, the Principal, then thanked Mr. Mok for attending and addressing them.

The Principal in presenting his report said that the number of students who enrolled for the typewriting course was 36. The method employed was the Universal Touch System. The Shorthand Class though a small one, had been energetically conducted by an experienced instructor, Mr. Issac Hassan. No pains had been spared to teach the students the principals of the Pitman's system. The term for the shorthand course was not yet over, therefore no examination had been held.

The successful candidates in the Senior Examination were as follows:—Gussy Joseph Lau (64 net words per minute), Tse Sik Yee (60 net words per minute), Chan King Sang (50), Chan Ka Muk (50).

Junior Examination:—Chen Shiu Ki (51 net words per minute), Pong Tak Ming (50 net words per minute), Yau Yuen Ham (45 net words per minute), Chung Chi Ying (41), Cheng Kwok Wah (37), Chung Chai Yeung (36), Leong Wang Hong (35), Leung Kit Chuen (34), Pao Chi Tsun (33), Lee Wai Que (32), Kam Kin Sang (31), Ho Cheung Kwong (30), Yuen Man Chi (30), To Shue Wing (30).

FOR SINGAPORE ZOO

MAGNIFICENT BOA CONSTRICTOR.

A magnificent specimen of a boa constrictor which will add interest to the Singapore Zoo arrived from Brunei by the s.s. Auby, a coasting vessel plying between Singapore and Sarawak. Measuring 22 feet long, and with the tremendous girth of almost 26 inches, it weights in the neighbourhood of 370 lb.

The beast's appetite proved its undoing for it had swallowed a wild boar in the jungle of Sarawak and being unable to move about, was captured without much difficulty. The Resident of Brunei ordered it to be shipped to Singapore as a present.

In spite of its size this latest arrival will not be able to "lord it" at the zoo because there is already a tremendous python there measuring 32 feet 2 inches! The addition of this boa constrictor brings the total at the zoo up to 15.

MINE TRAGEDY AT EDGEGREEN

TWENTY-EIGHT MINERS BELIEVED KILLED

HEROIC WORK BY RESCUE PARTY

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 12.

IN a terrific explosion underground, 24 miners were killed outright and many more were injured, many of them seriously, at the Edgegreen Colliery, near Wigan, in the North Midlands last night.

LONDON, Nov. 13.

Though the accident at Edgegreen Colliery occurred at 3 a.m., rescue operations were quickly organised. A party of sixty fought for seven hours through the deadly fire-damp before reaching the scene of the disaster three hundred yards below the surface.

Twenty-four bodies have so far been recovered, many of which are burned beyond recognition.

It is feared the death-roll is twenty-eight, as four miners are still missing.

RUGBY, Nov. 12.

Early this morning an explosion occurred in a pit at Garwood Hall Colliery near Wigan. There were 106 men in the pit when the disaster occurred. 24 are believed dead, three slightly injured and three seriously injured. 72 escaped or were rescued unhurt, but four are still unaccounted for.

The explosion was slight and there was no fire, but there were very few survivors of men working in the district in which the disaster occurred. More than a dozen rescue teams at once began operations, but their work was seriously hampered by the presence of dense volumes of fire-damp.

MAIDENHEAD MURDER CHARGE

HUSBAND DENIES ACCUSED MAN'S ALLEGATION

Ernest Hutchinson, aged 47, was committed for trial at Maidenhead charged with the murder of Mrs. Gwendoline Annie Warren, aged 37, of Heywood-avenue, Heywood Park, Maidenhead, with whom he had lived as her husband.

Evidence was given that after the tragedy Hutchinson went to London, met a woman and took her to Southend, where they spent the night.

In a statement to the police he said that he found Mrs. Warren dead and left the house. He could tell that somebody had been in the house.

The statement continued, "Mrs. Warren has had two or three letters from her husband threatening he would do her all the injury he could, so I don't know whether he did it or not."

Thomas William Warren, a labourer, of Oxford-avenue, Burnham, said that he married the woman in 1924. She left him in June, 1932. He had never sent any letters threatening to do her an injury.

Hutchinson pleaded not guilty and reserved his defence.

THURSDAY'S HELENA MAY CONCERT

PIANO AND VOCAL RECITAL

Next Thursday's concert at the Helena May Institute will consist of a Vocal and Piano Recital by Mrs. Neil Mathieson (Contralto) and Mr. A. M. Bowes-Smith.

Mrs Mathieson will sing three groups of songs: one set in German (Brahms, Hugo Wolf and Carl Bohm), one set by Delius, whose music is becoming increasingly popular, and one miscellaneous group in English. The singer will be accompanied on the piano by Mr. Maurice Barlow.

The piano part of the Recital consists of the four Scherzi of Chopin. These characteristic works, of which two, at any rate, are well known, are very seldom heard at one performance, and Mr. Bowes-Smith has placed them on the one programme so that they may be compared and contrasted. Programmes will be provided, at a cost of 10 cents, giving full descriptive notes of the Scherzi, together with translations of the German songs.

As usual, the concert will be open to the public, with an admission charge of 40 cents for members, 50 cents for non-members, and 30 cents for servicemen and children.

COMPLICATIONS OF C.M.S.N. CO.

FORMER DIRECTOR PLACED UNDER SUPERVISION

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13.

CHU CHIA HUA called a meeting this afternoon at the Municipal Government premises to discuss the C.M.S.N.C. complications, at which the new director, Liu Hung Shen, and the former director, Li Kuo Chieh both attended.

Li Kuo Chieh reported on the Tls. 10,000,000 loan from the China Realty Co. made for the maintenance of the company which was approved by the ex-Minister Chen Min Chu and the General Director, Chen Fu Mu.

Li Kuo Chieh admitted the procedure was wrong, though the loan had received official sanction.

After the meeting Li Kuo Chieh was placed under supervision pending further investigation by the new administration.

CHUNGSHAN PORT PLAN

SURVEYING WORK GOES ON

Mr. Tang Shao-yi, the veteran statesman and Magistrate of the Chungshan Model District, who is now in Canton on official business, in the course of a press interview states that the scheme for the construction of an ocean port in Chungshan has not been dropped, and that work is going on in connection with the surveying of the site. The work is being done with funds from the National Government, and is having undertaken by Messrs. Netherlands Harbour Works, who expect to finish the survey by the end of next year.

Mr. Tang points out that in foreign countries, every care is taken in such schemes and that the surveying for a port site often takes some 10 years.

In the case of the Chungshan Port, there has been found a need to have the port opened at the earliest possible opportunity, so all work connected with the scheme has to be expedited.—Canton Gazette.

INTERNED JAPS. IN MANCHULI

EFFORT TO SECURE THEIR RELEASE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

HARBIN, Nov. 11.

EFFORTS continue to release the Japanese interned in Manchuli when Su Ping Wen rebelled. Capt. Yamaoki, military attaché from the Japanese Embassy at Moscow, who is now at Matzievskaya, telegraphs that 44 Japanese are interned in Manchuli at the Japanese Consulate, while 125 Japanese frontier guards formerly employed there by the Manchukuo authorities, together with six civilians, are confined in prison.

EUROPEAN FOUND HANGED

TRAGEDY AT PENANG HARBOUR GODOWN

Penang.—Gordon James Wright, wharf engineer, Penang Harbour Board, was found hanging in godown 8 which is used as a wharf store.

Mr. Wright came to office as usual at seven o'clock. A little later he obtained the stores' keys from the storekeeper and some time after a Chinese workman, who required some iron entered the store and was horrified to find Mr. Wright hanging from a wire attached to a beam. He immediately informed the Harbour Board watchman who informed the European officers.

The body was lowered but life was extinct.

Mr. Wright came out in April, 1923. He was mostly stationed in Penang, but some time ago acted as manager of the Prai River Dock. He was well-liked by his superiors, being a hard worker.

He leaves a wife in Penang and two children in England.

FASHIONS OF 1912 IN "THE HAPPY ENDING"

In the first-class dining room of a homeward bound liner in 1912, a dance was in progress, and laughter and chatter competed noisily with the ship's orchestra's rendering of "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Then the liner came into head-on collision with another vessel. Fragments of ceiling rained down on the dancers, and the crash of crockery, swept from the tables, mingled with the shrieks of the terrified women passengers.

"Fine," shouted Millard Webb, the film director. The scene was being made for "The Happy Ending," and over two hundred or more "extras" took part in the film. Getting the feminine portion of this big crowd clothed and coiffered in 1912 styles occupied the studio wardrobe and hair-dressing staff the best part of a day. "The Happy Ending" one of Ian Hay's most popular stories will be shown at the Queen's Theatre from Thursday.

WEEK-END SPORTING ACTIVITIES

RACING

PURE MUSIC PAYS BIG DIVIDEND

DONALD BLACK SURPRISES FAVOURITES IN NOVICES EVENT IN MACAO

MANNA WINS FROM CITY OF MELBOURNE

THERE WAS A COMPARATIVELY LARGE GATHERING AT MACAO YESTERDAY TO WATCH THE FIFTH EXTRA RACE MEETING OF THE MACAO JOCKEY CLUB. SOME EXCELLENT SPORT WAS PROVIDED TO THOSE WHO MADE THE TRIP AND AT LEAST ONE BIG DIVIDEND WAS PAID OVER THE COUNTER.

PURE MUSIC, RIDDEN BY MR. BLACK, WON THE NOVICES EVENT FROM TWO JOINT FAVOURITES IN WHOOPEE (MR. CARROLL) AND GALLANT FOX (MR. NORONHA). HIS SUPPORTERS WERE PAID $123.60 FOR A WIN.

MANNA SHOWED A WELCOME RETURN TO FORM IN THE AUSTRALIAN RACE AND WON HANDSOMELY FROM CITY OF MELBOURNE.

THE LADIES SCRAMBLE WENT TO MISS P. SCOTT HARSTON WHO RODE PRESTWICK TO VICTORY.

FAVOURITES SHARE HONOURS WITH OUTSIDERS

Only four ponies started in the first race and Guiding Star carried most of the money. He finished last. Allwell was second favourite, but although he ran well most of the way, he was not equal to the challenge by Drian and Dashaway in the last lap. Mr. W. Roza waited very patiently until the straight was reached when he asked Drian for an effort, the pony responding beautifully.

Manna Wins.

Manna, City of Melbourne and Tin Tac finished in that order in the Australian race, where there were six starters. City of Melbourne led most of the way, followed by Joaquim and Manna. Just before entering the straight Tin Tac stepped into the lead, but was quickly replaced by Manna, who came up with a great burst of speed from the distance post City of Melbourne re-passed Tin Tac for second place. Kilrea, looking very fit in the paddock, did not make a good show during the race and apparently is nowhere near his old form

Ajax Comes Home.

In the third race Deveron failed to make use of a good start and although the pony led most of the way round, it did not establish any appreciable lead. Ajax was well handled by "Gussy" Roza to win, as the pony was kept within striking distance of Deveron all the way round. Workable Stag, a well-fancied candidate, found the early pace too much for him. Alexandra Hall was a good third.

Caplan's Win.

Caplan won his first of two races on Wakefield. He was made favourite for the race and pony put up a good show, displacing Powerful King in the last furlong. The Plover created some surprise when he led into the straight, but faded off in the run home, finishing third. Orlando had to struggle with a bad start and did well to finish fourth.

New King.

New King provided Caplan with his second win on the afternoon. In the sixth race. Venturous and Tien Feng Shan made all the running with New King hanging comfortably behind. Mr. Caplan asked his amount for an effort in the straight and the pony responded splendidly to win by three lengths.

Ladies Race.

Estrellita and Prestwick were favourites for the Ladies Scramble over seven furlongs and Miss P. Scott Harston deserves full marks for the manner in which she handled Prestwick, after getting a bad start. Estrellita wasted too much effort trying to catch up with Dashaway (ridden by Miss Shenton) who set a very fast pace early on. Until Then was a good third.

YACHTING

THE YACHTING SEASON

SUCCESSFUL OPENING CRUISE

COMMODORE ON THE CLUB'S PROGRESS

The opening cruise of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club and first rowing regatta of the season was held on Saturday afternoon. A large crowd being present including His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government (Hon. Mr. W. T. Southorn, C.M.G.) and Mrs. Southorn, Mr. A. L. Shields, the Commodore of the Club, and Mr. H. S. Rouse, Vice-Commodore.

It was an ideal day for the regatta, perfect sunshine, a fresh breeze, and a straight tide favourable to the rowing events. The entry of a whaler's crew from the U.S.S. Houston was a pleasing innovation in this section of the regatta, it being the first time that the race in question had been an international one.

The Club House and grounds were decorated with flags of all kinds and the event proved very successful throughout.

A serious thumb injury sustained by G. Dalziel prevented Hong Kong from entering for the Percy Smith Challenge Cup for Senior Pairs over three quarters of a mile which was won by Kowloon with, I. G. Allison, as cox. H. W. Dulley, who has rowed for the Thames Rowing Club, did very well.

New Class of Yachts.

Saturday saw the initial appearance in sailing races of the new Anker Class. Of a fleet of ten boats, all constructed by the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd., at Kowloon Docks, eight were entered for a race over five miles. Joss, sailed by Mr. Karsten Larssen crossed the line first with Isobel, sailed by Commander W. G. Cowland, a close second.

In the Handicap Class, Dorothea was sailed to victory by Miss H. Khill, and in the other event for ladies, Miss Patchett in Toynette won the One Design, Heyward Hayes and Gael Classes event, in which six boats were entered Major Mousley brought Curlew in first in the Cruiser Class race. Sea Lark, a new boat, sailed by Mr. E. Cock, was second, with the Vice-Commodore's craft, U and I, sailed by Mr. H. S. Rouse himself, third.

Hong Kong Defeat Kowloon.

Hong Kong beat Kowloon by two lengths in the Denison Challenge Cup for junior pair oars; over a distance of three quarters of a mile. Going ahead at the start, Hong Kong maintained their lead and settled down to a steady stroke to win comfortably.

Jardines, holders of the Hornell Cup for Hong Fours for the past two seasons, were easily beaten by eight lengths by the Hong Kong Electric, for whom G. G. Stopani Thomson stroked very well.

In the Percy Smith Challenge Cup Kowloon, stroking 99, at once took the lead, and kept it till the last quarter. At this stage Hong Kong made a great effort, but then fell away to give Kowloon victory by three lengths. H. W. Dulley stroked well for Kowloon, and played a big part in their victory.

In the open pulling Whaler Race, 18 boats were entered, including a crew from the American flagship, U.S.S. Houston. H.M.S. Whitshed was the winner, with H.M.S. Devonshire Stokers second, and H.M.S. Witch crew third.

During the afternoon, a fencing exhibition was given by Mr. F. J. T. Locke, Lieut. G. H. Stokes, R.N., Mr. B. S. M. Veliki and Mr. A. N. Braude.

THE COMMODORE'S THANKS.

After the events were finished, members and guests assembled in front of the Club House and Mr. A. L. Shields (Commodore) addressed the gathering. He thanked H.E. the O.A.G. and Mrs. Southorn for their presence, and for their keen interest in the welfare of the Club. Referring to the new Anker yachts, Mr. Shields paid a warm tribute to the hard work put in by Mr. D. Keith, of the Kowloon Docks, for his efforts in the modelling of the vessels. He presented Mr. Keith with a silver tray as a mark of appreciation from the Yacht Club. Mr. Shields also thanked Capt. Krogh-Moe, who had been the connecting link with Mr. Anker, the designer of the yachts. Everyone, who had

H.K.C.C. v. K.C.C.

DRAW ENDS EXCITING GAME

This two-day match was resumed on Saturday at two o'clock. There had been an interesting discussion in the Pavilion the night before, while some of our tired cricketers were restoring their tissues, as to what policy the K.C.C. should adopt. They were fifty-four runs on with five wickets to go. My own opinion was that they ought to put on as many runs as possible for not more than an hour, provided that the batsmen were prepared to go out for quick runs. (Fincher and MacKay had put on seventy-six runs very nicely for the fifth wicket but they might have scored them faster especially as the bowling was tiring.) Then after having just taken the edge off the freshness of the Club batsmen by an hour in the field, they could set about getting as near to an innings victory as they could. It was obvious that except in the case of an outright innings won they were going to be the last people to bat and to have the worst light. Runs were of equal value whether made before or after the Club second innings. Surely then it was more profitable to occupy the wickets between two and three rather than between four-thirty and five fifty-five? Admittedly they would almost certainly have had to be batting then, but only for a short time had they had say thirty-five runs to get in their fourth knock having put on ninety for their last five wickets between two and three. I have given this argument at length as there seemed a good deal of division of opinion.

A Sporting Course.

Goodwin took the other course and although, as I have said, he decreased his chances of victory and gave the Club the only possible chance they could have of winning, yet the declaration made for a very much brighter and more interesting afternoon's cricket. I did not see the play but I have discussed it with a good many eye-witnesses and gather that the points are as follows.

Fine Innings by Witham.

Burnett and Goodwin opened the bowling and pretty soon on Lowe patted a straight full-toss from Goodwin straight back into his hands. Armstrong helped take the score to thirty-five and then there were a couple of disasters Goodwin in his first spell had been bowling none too well and he was replaced by McInnis. Duckitt got a nasty hit from one of Burnett's faster ones and did not seem to recover from it. He was taken of McInnes and at the same total Burnett bowled Armstrong. Worse was to come for the same bowler got one past Hayward's defence at forty-two. (42-4-1:) Witham, who had been top-scorer in the first innings started now to play an even better innings while Harley showed good form and helped to take the score to a hundred and fifteen, a stand of seventy-three runs. Lyal managed to get rid of both of them, aided in the case of Witham (who had made fifty-three), by a magnificent catch on the boundary by McInnes. Goodwin bowled much better again during his second spell and Burnett was good all through, I see that he got through the match without being no-balled. Ride and Divett lent some valuable aid at the end and the Club managed to total a hundred and seventy-nine, which was a good deal more than looked probable at one time.

K.C.C. Fail to Get the Runs.

The real question was whether A. T. Lay was going to play another of his hurricane innings, and the Club, remembering the first knock, put on Sargent, with the greatest success. He tied Lay up and after getting one pulled four the batsman was beaten and bowled. E. C. Fincher was away playing in a doubles tennis match and could not go in in his usual place. But for W. C. Hung and Norman MacKay the K.C.C. would have been in a mess. Each got thirty, however, after four had gone down for seventeen. E. F. Fincher was bowled as he pulled right away from Beck, who was bumping nastily. Hung was out after a stand of forty-seven, and Teddie Fincher was back in time to play a useful knock for nineteen before Beck again beat him for pace and bowled him. The match ended in a draw, and it is a great pity it could not be played out, as anything might have happened.

Ideas and Reflections.

Frankly I do not think the Club come well out of it. Their bowling, with the exception of Beck was almost innocuous, and I thought Lowe was kept on an over or two too long in the first innings. Their batting was very patchy and Witham, Ride, and Duckitt alone did well, or fairly, in both knocks.

CLOSING DAY AT KOWLOON B.G.C.

PRESENTATION OF TROPHIES

VICE-PRESIDENT'S TEAM WINS

The Kowloon Bowling Green Club celebrated their Closing Day of the season on Saturday, when a large gathering of members and guests attended the Club.

The afternoon's play consisted of a spoon match between the President's team, captained by Mr. E. W. L. Hogbin, and the Vice-President's team, captained by Mr. F. L. Rapley. The result was a win for the latter team by the narrow margin of 2 shots.

The following were the scores:—
President's Team 140
Vice-President's Team 142

Before asking Mrs. Hogbin to present the various prizes, the President, Mr. E. W. L. Hogbin said Ladies and Gentlemen.

It was our great privilege and pleasure to have staged on our greens, this year's Aitkenhead Shield Match in which 90 players took part. The match was a great success from every point of view, and it is to be hoped that similar arrangements will be made in future years, if only to allow this large number of players to take part, and thereby add greater interest to the Competition.

Interport Players Congratulated.

We congratulate our Interport Team on its splendid performances in Shanghai, and we are particularly proud of the fact that Johnny Brown and Bob Nichol, two members of this Club, were part of that team. And now for a few words about our own Competitions. The Bowls Championship has been won by that old veteran, Joe Gibson who wins it for the first time in his career. It is no mean achievement to win the Championship of this Club and I congratulate Joe on having at last attained this great honour, for he is a worthy holder of the title.

My hearty congratulations to Charlie Beat who has been playing great bowls this year, for in addition to winning the President's Prize, he was third in the Club championship and reached the last eight in the Open Championship of the Colony. His removal to Shanghai is a distinct loss to this

CRAIGENGOWER DRAW WITH ARMY

H.K.C.C. AND K.C.C. PROVIDE INTERESTING GAME

Sayer in Form for Civil Service

In their first league engagement of the season, Craigengower could only manage a draw against the Army team on Saturday. With their score at 169 for 8 wickets Zimmern declared the innings closed, but at the drawing of stumps the Army were still in possession with 126 on the board for the loss of 6 wickets. Zimmern played a forceful innings for 57 runs in which were included ten boundaries. Pte. Dewey bowled splendidly to take 5 wickets for 24.

K.C.C. 2NDS PLAY OUT TIME

Craigengower juniors registered their second league triumps when they defeated the Police by 5 wickets. B. R. Iranee being mainly responsible for the rout by taking 7 wickets for 24.

The other junior league match on Saturday resulted in a win for the Royal Navy at the expense of the Club de Recreio. Opposed to the bowling of Sub-Lieut. Ommaney Davies (3 for 9) Mid. Henderson (3 for 17) and Sub-Lieut. Robertson (3 for 9) the Recreio collapsed for 60 runs.

The two-day fixture between the Hong Kong Cricket Club and the Kowloon Cricket Club provided an interesting climax, when with 126 runs required to win, the Peninsula batsmen could only manage 106 runs in the time of their disposal for the loss of 7 wickets. Under the circumstances the Club eleven must be congratulated on holding the issue to a creditable draw.

The K.C.C. juniors narrowly averted an innings defeat at the hands of the Hong Kong C.C., when in their follow on they managed to hold the fort to the tune of 149 runs for 8 wickets—81 runs still being required to avoid an innings defeat when time was called.

seen them and sailed in them, he said, had expressed gratitude.

They had had a wonderful turn out in the whaler event. It was the first time they had had an international race, and he hoped it was the forerunner of many more to come.

The Yacht Club had now the biggest fleet on record, 34 racing yachts and 24 cruisers.

In connection with the increased size of the fleet, Mr. Shields said it was due largely to the hard work put in by Mr. H. S. Rouse, Mr. G. G. Wood, who designed the sails, and Mr. V. Goulburn, who had always given freely of his advice.

In conclusion he thanked the Sailing Secretary (Mr. G. H. Gandy), the Rowing Secretary (Mr. G. G. Stopani-Thomson), the Club Secretary (Mr. R. J. Vernall), and Mrs. Vernall for so kindly consenting to present the prizes.

After Mrs. Vernall had given away the prizes, Mrs. Vernall was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers in a silver vase tied with the Yacht Club colours, by Master Henry Pearce, attired in a sailor suit.

H.K.C.C. v. K.C.C.

Harley has the makings of a useful cricket if he sticks to the game and Witham (if he does not wander back into his Rugby habits) will be a great asset as a bat. Hayward has yet to find his form.

For Kowloon, MacKay has at last found his form with the bat. I suspect the discipline of having to watch the line and flight of the ball closely when keeping wicket have improved his concentration, to lack of which I put down most of his recent failures. Lay is a fine bat to fast bowling and difficult to set a field for, for his on drive if played a shade across goes to square leg. The Kowloon bowlers were better than usual. But for one and and bad over Burnett bowled excellently all through while Lyal, Goodwin and McInnes were usual at times.

M.C.C. LEAD OVER VICTORIA

HAMMOND PLAYS SNAPPY CRICKET

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

MELBOURNE, Nov. 12.

AT the close of play to-day the M.C.C. touring eleven had scored 362 for the loss of 7 wickets, thus holding a lead over Victoria of 131 runs, with 3 wickets to fall.

A crowd of 6,000 saw the M.C.C. resume batting to-day with 41 runs on the board for the loss of G. O. Allen and the Nawab of Pataudi. The sky was cloudy, but the wicket was again good.

Two wickets fell before lunch, which was taken with the total at 134 for 4, R. E. S. Wyatt having contributed a patient 74.

Tremendous enthusiasm has been aroused in Melbourne by the visit of the M.C.C. team and after lunch a crowd of 39,500 witnessed "Wally" Hammond, holder of the highest Test aggregate in Australia, in brilliant form.

The Gloucestershire professional was undefeated at the close of play with 160 to his credit. He played dazzling cricket after a slow start, hitting up 100 in 165 minutes and adding his third fifty in only 28 minutes.

With Paynter (28 not out), Hammond was associated in an unbroken partnership of 124.

Scores were as follows:—

Victoria 231
H. H. Oakley 63.
W. W. Woodfull 5.
G. O. Allen 4 for 45.

CLOSING DAY AT KOWLOON B.G.C.

Club, and I am sure we all wish him the best of luck in his new sphere.

Champion Skip.

For the second year in succession Drake is our Champion Skip. He has a remarkable record to his credit, but then so ought any bowler with a name like that. Adam Holland has won the Handicap Singles. He is a very fine bowler and we always except to see him "in at the death" somewhere in the Competitions, so we gave him the biggest handicap we could with decency, but despite our efforts to stop him he has pulled it off, and I congratulate him on a very fine performance.

I feel I cannot pass by our bowling activities without making some reference to Hughie Nish, who, as you know, reached the final of the Open Championship of the Colony, and in addition reached the final of the President's Competition and three other semi-finals in this Club, and I congratulate him on his splendid performance. He is only a wee small laddie, in fact he has to stand on the brass-rail to throw the dice properly, but he has been a "big man" in bowls this year.

The Organisers.

We are so apt to take everything for granted that I am afraid we sometimes forget what is being done for us, how a number of men are working hard continuously organising our games; and giving up hours of their spare time on our behalf and I should, therefore, like to thank Messrs. Rapley, Russell, Rose, Hale and Hall of the Bowls Committee, and Messrs. Fergusson, Totley and Sturgeon of the Tennis Committee, for the splendid manner in which they have organized our sports and the expeditious and efficient manner in which they have run the Competitions.

I will now ask my wife to present the prizes to the winners.

Tribute to Mrs. Nish.

Just before everybody dispersed, the President, Mr. Hogbin said he had a duty to perform before he would allow anyone to leave.

He said:—

Ladies and Gentlemen.

There is a handbag remaining on the table, and my wife has been asked to hand this present to Mrs. Nish for services rendered.

It has been subscribed for by the lady competitors in the Tennis competitions who have asked me to thank her very much indeed for so kindly umpiring their matches. It is not everyone who is prepared to give up so much spare time, and forego so many social engagements for the sake of other people. Moreover, the tennis committee appreciate that Mrs. Nish's services have materially assisted the progress of the competitions, and I am also asked to convey their many thanks.
